

DAY 1.

WORKING AT P&G

P&G is the largest consumer goods company in the world. We have operations in about 80 countries, building 65 trusted brands that make life better for five billion consumers in more than 180 countries. So it's not surprising that we offer opportunities for people of almost every skill set. From brand managers to engineers to scientists and more, it takes a lot of very different people to bring our products to life—95,000, in fact! Every career area matters, every team makes an impact, and every single person does something that matters, from Day 1 and every day.

We view our global scale as one of P&G's five core strengths, seeing scale as a way to drive efficiency and consumer value. It also means that our employees can enjoy diverse, interesting, and rewarding careers—sometimes more than one. From Day 1, we want you to explore every opportunity to learn, diversify, and become a leader.
